We Are Water MN is a project of the Minnesota Humanities Center that engages Minnesotans with our state's most important natural resource through personal stories, historical content, and scientific information.

More information on this exhibit and the events planned can be found at the project website: www.StearnsCountySWCD.net/wawmn.

This interactive exhibit was developed by the Minnesota Humanities Center and other state agencies. You can learn more at www.mnhum.org/water.
